Pamela Lynne Roudebush joins Elliott & Davis, PC

The Law firm of Elliott & Davis, PC is pleased to announce that Pamela Lynne Roudebush joined the firm as an Attorney. Ms. Roudebush practices in the area of civil litigation, with an emphasis on family law. As a sole practitioner prior to joining Elliott & Davis, PC, Ms. Roudebush has practiced throughout Western Pennsylvania with her practice being predominantly centered in Allegheny and Westmoreland counties.

Ms. Roudebush brings with her a strong commitment to community and pro bono service. Throughout most of her career and private life, Ms. Roudebush has worked extensively with organizations representing low income persons in the family court system and with organizations providing rescue and care of animals.

Ms. Roudebush graduated from Indian River Community College in Ft. Pierce, Florida, summa cum laude, with an Associate of Science degree in Legal Assisting and from Robert Morris University, summa cum laude, in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania with a Bachelor of Science degree in Social Sciences. Pam received her Juris Doctorate from Duquesne University School of Law.

Outside of her family law practice, areas of particular interest to Pam are those relating animals and the environment. Pam is a member of the newly formed Pennsylvania Bar Association's Animal Law Committee and is a contributing editor to the Michigan State University College of Law's Animal Legal and Historical Web Center. She previously served as a Board Member and Vice-President of Animal Advocates, a Pittsburgh based non-profit animal welfare and rescue organization. While attending Duquesne, Pam founded and served as President of the law school's Animal Law Society, received two CALI awards in environmental studies, interned at the Pennsylvania Department of Environmental Protection, and served on Law Review.
